

Barmouth Bay Caravan Holidays

Food & Drink

Your Accommodation

Our well-equipped accommodation at Barmouth Bay is ideal for preparing and cooking all your favourite meals during your stay. Enjoy your meals and drinks on our caravan decking.

We have a full size oven making things even easier! There's a local shop for all your holiday essentials, so no chance you'll run out of milk and bread.

In nearby Barmouth there is a large Co-op and Iceland.

Alternatively you could take advantage of a Tesco or Asda food delivery service, order before you leave and have all your provisions delivered when you arrive, how simple is that!

Every few yards in Barmouth there's a café or coffee shop to tempt you, many of them featuring local Welsh dishes on their menus or delicious homemade cakes.

For those of you that like to get away and not have to think about what to cook there's plenty of places right on our doorstep.

The following is a list (not exhaustive) of places to eat and drink in and around the Barmouth Area:

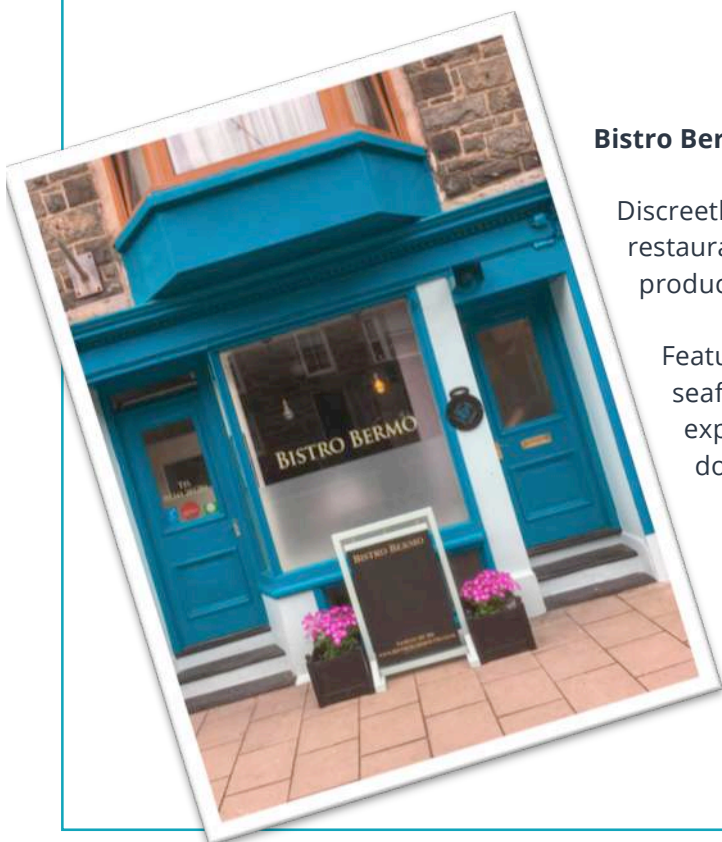

Nineteen.57

Nineteen.57 is a restaurant that combines fine dining with your favourite pub meals, and is within walking distance of your accommodation.

Freshly cooked, homemade food, great ales and a fine dining restaurant for those who want something a little bit special, Nineteen.57 offers you a great dining experience. Just turn up to eat in their contemporary and relaxed bar area, treat someone special and book a table in their fine dining restaurant or call and reserve for the family on their Sunday lunch booking system; this has been put in place as Sunday lunch is a very busy time for them and they aim to ensure that as many customers as possible get a table.

Bistro Bermo

Discreetly hidden behind an aqua-green shop front, this intimate restaurant delivers a sophisticated menu chock-full of Welsh farm produce and fresh fish.

Featuring dishes such as duck breast with walnut crust and daily seafood specials, the cooking is classical rather than experimental, and generally excellent. There are only half a dozen tables, so book ahead.
